Interview Summary
Buckman: Client #1 interview – They have been at the program for one week, they previously were at several other programs. They graduated another Janus program and then came to Buckman. Staff are supporting them, however, wishes there was more support for transgender clients. Sunday – Thursday the staff make dinner. Clients are responsible for their own breakfast and lunch. Friday and Saturday the clients are also responsible to make dinner. They are currently an intern at Janus' offices. Client #2 interview – They have been at the program for two and a half months, they like it here. Clients will behave badly and they believe staff does not intervene, some of the clients need a stricter environment. They are currently working parttime. They have frequent contact with family through phone calls and visits. Cordero: Client #1 interview – They have been at the program for two years and four months. They like it here, and it has helped a lot. Treatment has been great. Staff make breakfast and lunch. Clients help prep for dinner, and clients make brunch for the whole house on Sundays. They are able to concentrate at school a lot more here than in public school. They have phone calls and in-person visits with their family. They feel safe here. Staff are available and they get along with staff. They feel like some of the rules are petty, such as asking youth not to fidget during group. Atlas: Client #1 interview – They have been at the program for 8 months. They were previously at two other programs. They currently work fulltime. They get along with the other clients and staff. They feel safe here. Clients are responsible for making breakfast and lunch, and staff make dinner. They have contact with family through phone calls and in person visits. They are not currently in treatment, as they already graduated treatment. They don't like living in the city.

Observations
Buckman: The interior of Buckman is scheduled to be painted in February 2025, and the program had paint samples on the wall as clients were giving their opinions on what colors to paint the house. Staff and clients had positive interactions during the visit. Aside from two bedrooms, the program was clean and in good repair. Cordero: Clients were in the school building during the visit. The program was very clean and in good repair. Staff and the client interviewed had positive interactions during the visit. Atlas: The basement of the program recently flooded. The carpet has been torn out, and the program is working to get the tile with asbestos removed as well. Clients are currently allowed only in the basement with a staff to do laundry. In the dining room, there was one large hole in the ceiling, directly above the dining room table. There were several smaller holes in the ceiling as well. The program reported there was a leak, and they were trying to determine where the leak was coming from.
