Interview Summary
Sender House has a capacity of four residents. One resident was on-site and available to be interviewed. I met with the resident in the adjacent recreation room in a separate building to ensure privacy. This resident has been at many programs and rated this program as the best. She ranked it an 8-9 on a scale from 0-10 (0=worst program and 10 =best program). She reported she has learned life skills while at Sender House. "Staff help with skills, If I wasn't here, I would struggle with life skills and mental health". Resident reported feeling safe. Food was reported to be "good". The residents go out weekly with staff to purchase groceries for the week. Reported outings included going to a Christmas event in Corvallis and visiting a pumpkin patch. If given a magic wand to improve the program, resident reported more scheduled group outings. She reported the current group of residents are not interested in group outings.

Observations
During my tour I found the staff to be welcoming. All staff enjoyed working at Sender House and had no intentions of looking elsewhere. The downstairs basement had been remodeled and laundry room is receiving new locking cabinets. Staff office is to receive lockers for staff. The outside foundation had major repairs regarding drainage issues. No issues in home or mold. Foundation work was done with an engineer. I found the recreation room to be reorganized and useable. Last visit it was mainly a storage area and considerable work has been made to make it a great space for Residents away from the main house. Staff discussed how they work with the residents on how to shop for groceries and take them to a variety of stores to give them experience on how to shop for both quality and price. All areas were clean and organized.
