The program submitted drills for the last licensing period Jan. 2020 – July 2022. The drill sheets were missing required information as per the licensing rule to include special conditions simulated and problems encountered. In reviewing the drill sheets, the	Yes✓ No☐	- Program still utilizing the older form that was missing space for special conditions and problems encountered. They are currently using the comments column to document problems encountered. Recommended changing the title of the comments column and adding special conditions. - Harkins House was missing a fire drill for July 2023 Corrective Action – Update fire drill form and provide a plan for consistently conducting monthly fire drills.

program missed 3 monthly drills in 2020, 2 monthly drills in 2021 and 3 drills in 2022. On 9/1/22, the program emailed a revised version of the fire drill sheets to include conditions simulated and problems encountered. In an attempt to ensure that the drills are completed on a monthly basis, the evacuation sheets have been prefilled with each month as a reminder for the drills to be completed on a regular basis. During the unannounced the evacuation drills were reviewed and there was no documentation of a drill being conducted in November 2022 -Repeat finding

Interview Summary
Two clients were interviewed during the unannounced visit and both had been at the program for 4-5 months. The first client was discharging the following day after having completed the program successfully and was returning to their family. The client was not very talkative but stated they thought the program was helpful in providing them the tools to succeed when returning home. They felt safe and comfortable during their time in the program. They received plenty to eat and said there are always seconds available and snacks throughout the day. Client was able to earn 6 credits towards school which helped them start to catch up for when they returned to public school. They had plenty of time to use the phone to contact family and earned progressively longer visits with family from visits to day passes to overnight passes to weekend passes. Client stated they felt the groups were really good and they did a good job overall of running the program. The other client interviewed was having a discharge meeting and would be exiting the program to home in 2-3 weeks. They had the same opportunities to earn progressively longer visits and routinely went on weekend passes. Client felt like they had input into their treatment and was aware of their goals. They stated school was really good and it was easy to get caught up on credits there. Client said all of the staff are nice and they feel comfortable talking with them if they have concerns. Client also stated the food was good and said seconds were available as well as fruit for snacks throughout the day. Client felt like they did a lot more outings over the summer going to places like the pool, park and museums, but have not done as much since school started. They said they get daily rec where they can go outside and play basketball or volleyball. Client also participated in the co-op program they have with a local farm. Client was able to earn money and work off community service hours all while learning about farm operations. Client said the farm plants and harvests a lot of produce. Client said they get plenty of phone calls and time to talk with family. Client stated staff manage the program really well and specifically thought the case managers were really good.

Observations
Overall the program was in good condition and repair. Some of the cleaning that was the responsibility of the clients needed some work. The floors of the visiting room had crumbs and wrappers from youth eating in that area and not cleaning up. The trash bins in both bathrooms were overflowing with paper towels and need to be changed out. The bathrooms were clean, but messy. The kitchen, classroom, bedrooms and other common areas all looked presentable and clean. There were no concerns noted or new licensing violations found during the visit.

Corrective Actions and Timeframes:
