Report Description: Per staff report: 05.11.25 @1113 While in the gym, resident and peers were getting ready to go to lunch. Resident was sitting on a bench and when he stood up he reported to staff that he was light headed and dizzy. Resident proceeded to sit on the floor and then pass out for approximately ten seconds, hitting his head on the floor. Once resident was alert, he did not remember passing out and reported to staff that he was fine. Staff did call for a nurse who went to the resident in the gym. Once nurse arrived, staff informed nurse that resident had passed out and then took his peers out of the gym. While nurse assessed resident, he stated he was fine. Nurse noted resident was wearing his puffer jacket, slightly pale, and sweating. Nurse asked resident to take his jacket off and asked resident if he had the jacket on the whole time while playing basketball with his peers, resident reported that he had been wearing it the entire time. Nurse asked resident if he had eaten lunch yet and he stated no. Nurse asked how much water resident had had to drink this morning, resident reported he ?hadn't had much?. PERRLA assessed and appropriate. Resident's electronic BP was taken at 1114 recording at [REDACTED] on the right arm, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Resident walked with nurse and staff supervisor to an empty pod on his unit. While there, nurse gave resident about 30oz of water and requested resident drink water and leave the o2 monitor on his finger. Capillary refill assessed, noting very slow return. Resident manual BP was taken again at 1137 with his right arm reading [REDACTED] his left arm reading [REDACTED]. Manual BP was taken again at 1202 reading [REDACTED] on his left arm. Manual BP was taken again at 1303 on left arm, reading [REDACTED] again. During this period of time, resident's water was refilled multiple times, the o2 monitor remained between 97-99% on RA, and resident ensuring staff supervisor and nurse that he was ok. Resident did not use the restroom until before his last manual reading at 1303, upon exiting the restroom resident stated, ?That's the first time I've peed since last night.?. Nurse and staff supervisor asked resident if he had not used the bathroom this morning to which resident reported he had a bowel movement this morning but did not urinate. Nurse encouraged resident to drink more water and educated resident on the importance of hydrating the body properly. Resident walked back to his pod. Medical APRN notified of all vital readings taken and ordered a head x-ray. Medical consult written for follow up assessment. [REDACTED]
