Report Description: On 6/11 Client [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Client was in her bedroom due to having pink eye and being contagious, another client was on the unit acting out and causing chaos, staff went and checked on client around 5:22pm and client was barely responding, staff tried to open the door all the way, but client put her mattress in the door to prevent staff from coming in, client was laying on the floor with four shirts/pants tied around her neck. Staff went in the bedroom to remove the items from around her neck due to the clients face being purple and her lips being purple. Once staff removed the items from her neck, her color resumed normal. Client was able to sit up and stand up and walk out of the bedroom and sit on the floor in the hallway to talk with staff. Client later was transported by [REDACTED]
