I spoke with [REDACTED] regarding wake up routines, staff duties and work policy for waking up residents. I spoke with [REDACTED] about resident [REDACTED] and the events leading up to going to the hospital. I obtained roommate information for the alleged victim and injury documentation. When staff wake up residents if a staff has to enter the room, they are to call over another staff to maintain line of sight. This is a precaution for both the residents and the staff. I spoke with [REDACTED] in regards to injuries obtained during restraints, chemical restraints and information regarding the chemical restraint administered before the resident discharged to the hospital. [REDACTED] administered the chemical restraint to [REDACTED] in the thigh, [REDACTED] states this can lead to bruising if the muscle is tense at the time of the administration. It was not known if [REDACTED] had a bruise from the chemical restraint because the resident left for the hospital after the chemical restraint was administered. Based on the information obtained in the interviews with staff and residents, the facility was found to be in compliance with standard 905.4.G. The complaint is UNFOUNDED by licensing. 5/16/2025 - 521 inspection report sent to facility. Signed copy returned and uploaded to ELS. Licensing interviewed residents and staff members. The case has been closed as unfounded by licensing. Approved by Program Coordinator. Case complete.

Staff Interviews

There were 2 staff interviewed at the facility.

Staff 1 - I spoke with staff 1 concerning allegations for case 029281. Staff 1 explained the morning routine and staff duties for waking residents up. Per Staff 1, staff are supposed to maintain line of sight with another staff member and are not enter the residents room. I asked Staff 1 to explain possible causes of contusions for the resident in the report. Staff 1 stated the resident had been in multiple restraints. Residents undergo a health check after restraints. Any redness of the skin which could later develop into a bruise is noted. The alleged victim was discharged to the hospital after trying to swallow a battery and a bruise could have developed as a result of the restraint. I asked Staff1 if residents ever bruise from chemical restraints. Staff 1 stated we could speak with the nurse concerning chemical restraints.

Staff 2 - I spoke with Staff 2 the nurse who issued the shot for the chemical restraint for the resident, mentioned in the report. Staff 2 stated she administered the shot for the resident in the thigh. The shot can cause bruising if the resident is tense when the shot is administered. It is unclear if the resident was bruised from the shot because she was discharged shortly after.

Based on the information obtained in interviews with staff and residents, Perimeter of the Ozarks is found to be in compliance with standard 905.4.g
